

Moving Large Pieces in the High End Office Furniture Industry

We are able to handle more material overall because of the Gorbelt System.

Tuohy is a manufacturer of high end office furniture.

The Problem

Workers move around large, heavy parts. The company was looking to increase efficiency in production of their furniture pieces by allowing parts to be lifted, then rotated and moved by one person safely.

The Solution

Tuohy purchased both a Ceiling Mounted Work Station Crane that could span the production floor and a Free Standing Jib Crane. These products have helped workers to increase their efficiency, while also keeping them safe.

“Gorbelt has allowed us to be able to lift and rotate large, heavy pieces in place with one person.”
