Authorized Wildeck Dealer

The elevated Wildeck catwalk over the forklift entryway created a safe walkway for office personnel.

A growing alcohol distributor in Medford, MA realized that the traffic on their warehouse floor was heading towards a potential collision. Busy employees and fast-paced, motorized equipment were all traveling in the same space at the same time. Valuing the safety of their personnel and merchandise, the distributor contacted an authorized Wildeck dealer for help.

As a result of this collaborative effort, the beverage distributor was able to obtain a custom designed Wildeck work platform that created separate traffic flows for both employees and motorized equipment. Using the elevated Wildeck catwalk, employees were able to safely obtain access to their second-level offices. Additionally, forklift traffic was able to move about more freely with the bulk of pedestrians safely contained in the overhead walkway.

Traditionally, catwalks serve as a pathway between two similarly elevated areas. However, in the case of this growing alcohol distributor, Wildeck's customized mezzanine connected two differing points of elevation. The highly adaptable nature of Wildeck's mezzanines makes them the ideal solution for the most challenging problems.
