

Datex Corporate Overview

Datex is a seasoned supply chain technology firm, boasting over 45 years of expertise in delivering software solutions to third-party logistics providers and clients spanning diverse sectors such as pharmaceuticals, food and beverage, regulated goods, precious metals, consumer goods, cold storage, and temperature-controlled commodities.

Our flagship innovation, known as Wavelength, is a unified SaaS platform tailored for logistics providers. This proprietary platform empowers logistics professionals to craft sophisticated applications by seamlessly linking disparate systems and designing interfaces through a user-friendly, low-code studio.

At the heart of our offering is Datex Footprint® WMS, a premier SaaS application hosted on Microsoft Azure, fully integrated, composed, published, and managed within our Wavelength platform. With its intuitive drag-and-drop simplicity and zero downtime update capabilities, Datex Footprint WMS empowers clients to swiftly deploy customized enterprise solutions to meet complex operational needs.
