ERGONOMIC DESIGN

The patent-pending design reduces fatigue and provides freedom of movement and user comfort no matter the hand size or if the operator is right- or left-handed. A comfortable two-finger design improves balance while increasing productivity in scan-intensive applications with maximum versatility, comfort, functionality, and performance.

FREEDOM

The HaloRing offers best-in-class ring scanner performance and is not tethered nor restricted to pairing with a nearby computer. Experience the freedom with the only ring scanner of its kind to have its own OS that can connect to your network and back office. No longer spatially limited by standards and is highly scalable to meet seasonal demand.

ENTERPRISE BROWSER

There is no need to write native applications, and developers can access the HaloRing features using available JavaScript APIs without the Android native platform's steep learning curve.

DESIGNED FOR PRODUCTIVITY

Hands-free 1D/2D scanning allows workers to use both hands to move packages, products, or materials. Maximize efficiency and productivity with the input navigation, selection, and confirmation using the rocker buttons.

DEVICE MANAGEMENT

Manage your growing fleet of devices with QuantumIQ. Streamline asset configuration initiated over-the-air, or benefit from a holistic view into the device's health and proactively take action to keep users productive. Understand your business with custom analytics reporting and measure the things that matter most to you.

ENTERPRISE READY

The rugged design offers more features and functionality than any other ring scanner on the market. Stringent drop specifications and a broad operating temperature range ensure reliable performance in the most extreme environments. A smart swappable battery, IP65 rating, and high visibility display makes the HaloRing the most advanced ring scanner available today.
